NEW FOR IPHONE AND IPAD

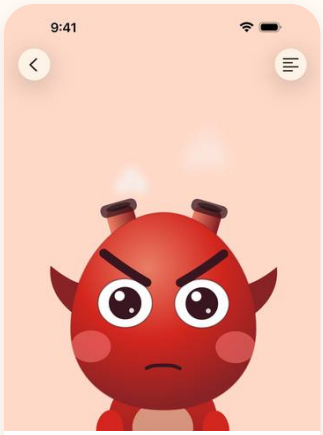

Ten characters explain feelings to children

Kribbelbauch: look, listen, join in. No ads, works offline.

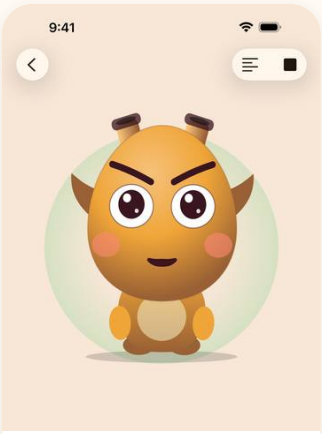

Ten feelings, ten characters

Anger, joy, fear, pride and six more. The child taps a feeling and its character appears.

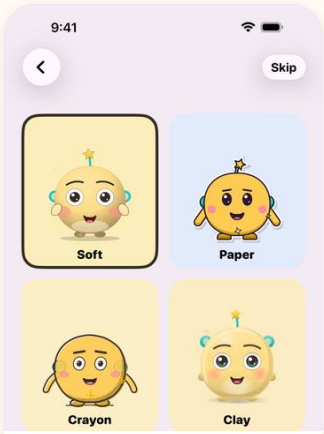

Explained in its own voice

Rumbly tells how anger feels and acts it out: it grows bigger, clenches its fists and stamps.

Small exercises to join in

Three deep breaths until Rumbly turns green. The explanation and exercise are read aloud, including for children who cannot read yet.

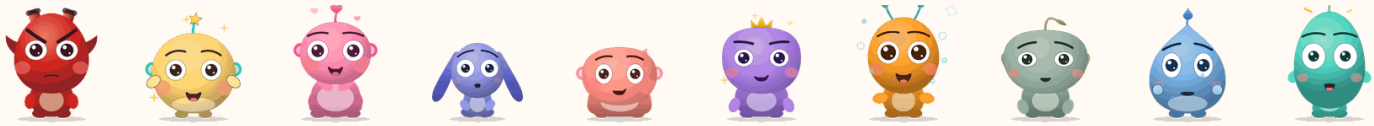

Four looks to choose from

Soft, paper, crayon or clay. The app icon changes to match.

> Kribbelbauch gives every feeling a friendly face, and something to do afterwards.

THE TEN CHARACTERS

Rumbly Jubbel Cuddly Shivvy Rosy Strutty Zappel Mulmi Teary Wowsy

Platform	iPhone and iPad, iOS 26 or later	Age	preschool (App Store: 5 and under)
Languages	English, German, French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Portuguese	Price	free, no in-app purchases
Privacy	no ads, no account, no data collected, works offline	Accessibility	VoiceOver, Reduce Motion

About Appolution. Appolution is an independent iOS studio in Neukirchen, Germany, co-founded by Johannes Albers. The studio makes iPhone and iPad apps that get to the point. They include WunschIt, a wish list with price history, and Kribbelbauch, an app that explains feelings to children. appolution.de

Not therapy and not a diagnosis.

Press contact: Johannes Albers · hello@appolution.de · appolution.de